Crossroads Investigations was named to the University at Buffalo's Fast 46 competition during a ceremony on Thursday, Sept. 15, 2022.

Named in honor of UB's founding in 1846, the UB Fast 46 program was created to recognize and celebrate the success of 46 of the fastest-growing businesses owned or led by UB alumni or former students around the world.

Fast 46 honorees represent the world's fastest-growing businesses owned or led by UB alumni or former students; companies were ranked by the percentage of cumulative annual growth in revenue for the three most-recent 12-month reporting periods as confirmed by The Bonadio Group, the official verification firm for Fast 46. Crossroads Investigations is owned and operated by a former CIA agent and a UB alumni, Marc Hurwitz. Marc received his B.A. degree in Political Science from SUNY Buffalo (1997), and continued his studies at The George Washington University for a M.A. degree in National Security Policy (1999). In 2008, Marc opened Crossroads Investigations to sub-contract for retired CIA Chiefs of Stations with corporate due diligence contracts. Crossroads has since expanded into a full-service Private Investigation and Due Diligence firm, named by the Daily Business Review as the top Private Investigation Agency in South Florida. Marc is a Florida Board Certified Investigator, a National Board Accredited Investigator, and a Certified International Investigator.

Crossroads Investigations was ranked as the best private Investigation Agency by the Legal Directorate and also has been named as the best Private Investigation Agency in South Florida by the readers of the Daily Business Review for the past seven years.
